This Day's News Is Printed in Today's Bulletin

An advertisement is to the merchant what sowing seed is to the planter. It may take a little time for the results to become apparent, but they are sure to come. The wise planter is not niggardly with his seed, nor the wise merchant with his advertising.

ELKS' TRAIL TO OPENED AT 7

The Elks' Trail opens its doors at 7 o'clock tonight. The first entrancing strains of music at the Great Carnival Masque Ball will be heard at 9 o'clock tonight. Revelry will reign supreme on Bishop Square from sunset to the small hours of the morning. The Elks' Carnival is the product of many committees, over which has presided the guiding hand of a little band of executives who include the following: Chairman, James D. Dougherty, and ably assisted by George T. Kleugel, G. W. R. King, S. A. Walker and J. Walter Doyle, and H. C. Easton as secretary.

MISS VAN-KIRK WILL LEAVE ON THE ALAMEDA

Is Much Improved And Stewardess Will Care
For Her

Although the Bulletin was the only source from which friends of Miss Ada Van Kirk received any word of her condition when she was arrested in this city as an alleged lunatic, some good-hearted people, quite outside of their official duties, have been interesting themselves in the pathetic case.

Miss Mary Johnson, of the sanatorium of the same name, very kindly volunteered to take Miss Van Kirk out to her place and care for her till she was better. However, as Miss Van Kirk is improving wonderfully, and brightening up a lot now that she has calmed down after her terrible experience, it was thought best by all those taking an interest in the case to allow the unfortunate young lady to remain in care of Dr. Peterson, who is doing all in his power for her.

Miss Van Kirk took nourishment yesterday after some persuasion, and this morning had responded to Dr. Peterson's kindness as much as to ask for tea and toast. The doctor considers that the forcing of obstinate patients to eat takes more out of them through their nervous system than the good food will do them after it is administered.

The cable that was sent by Eli Cope to Miss Van Kirk, care of the Bulletin, was delivered to the lady on Saturday. She, at that time, was not in a very bright condition, and did not realize what the message meant. However, at the present time she is aware of the contents of the cable and seems more cheerful.

Judge Andrade, although officially finished with the case as soon as he committed Miss Van Kirk to the Insane Asylum, has been doing all he could for the woman, and he has followed the matter very closely. This morning the judge and Dr. Peterson met at the police court as soon as the calendar was finished, and the judge at once took the case of Miss Van Kirk up again.

It was decided to arrange matters so that Miss Van Kirk would be able to get away on the Alameda next Wednesday. Dr. Peterson had seen the Alameda officials, and on their suggestion it was decided that a nurse was not required for Miss Van Kirk.

Elkdom's Carnival Awaits the Clock

"There's a reason" is emblazoned in letters large and flamboyant on a sign which is spread over the side of the big enclosure on Bishop street which contains attractions sufficient to stimulate the most faded imagination into believing that a collection of three ringed circuses had struck Old Honolulu town.

"There's a reason" all right enough why one should follow the trail of Honolulu Elkdom tonight and tomorrow night, and witness the host of entertaining stunts prepared for the delectation of the pleasure seekers. The Elks' Trail has been under consideration and preparation for many weeks past. The Antlered Herd have not been indulging in a great deal of bombast or fan fare concerning their show. In fact the proceedings along Bishop Square have savored much of the gum shoe until now all is ready and the people of Honolulu may as well make up their minds to sit tight and prepare themselves for the biggest surprise package of the year.

Band Will Announce Opening.
There's a reason why a Bulletin representative followed the hot but entertaining trail of a pair of "Antlered men" at noon today and was given a sample line on the entertainment arranged for the Honolulu public, commencing with the blare of band music promptly at seven o'clock tonight.

You simply can't help getting the Carnival spirit upon entering the battlements of the fortress-like structure near the corner of King and Bishop

New Features In Floral Parade

The anniversary of Washington's Birthday is to be celebrated tomorrow in a manner not only fitting that auspicious event, but by a spectacular parade the equal of which the Territory has never before witnessed. The Floral Parade committee have spared no pains to make this one of the finest floral parades ever held in these islands. They have been supported by hundreds of the leading citizens. Each island of the group will be represented.

On Palace Square, the volcano in which Piliakia is to be burned is almost completed. The stage upon which this monster will be tried and sentenced has been draped in black, and all is in readiness to rid the city of this monster who represents all the evil man is heir to.

The island princesses are all here, together with their mounts, and as these will be attired in expensive and elaborate costumes, with wreaths of leis and other natural decorations, to lend color to this important section of the parade, the effect will be brilliant.

The route of the parade will be as follows: The procession will assemble in the Capitol grounds, and the head of the parade will leave promptly at 10 a. m. From the Capitol the parade will follow a route from the King street entrance to Nuuanu, up Nuuanu to Beretania, out Beretania to Thomas Square. At this point the military section will fall out and form up on the mauka side of Thomas Square, when the rest of the parade will pass in review before them. All other sections will turn down Victoria street, and thence out King to Punahou, up Punahou to Beretania, and thence to the baseball grounds at Moiliili, where the judging and grand review will take place.

The decorated automobiles will leave the parade at Miller street and pass through the grounds of the Queen's Hospital, so that the patients of that institution may have an opportunity of seeing a portion of the parade. These will join the parade at Thomas Square, and will be assigned positions for the judging.

Some of the spectacular features of the parade will be the historical floats of the foreign countries represented, especially those of Germany, Great Britain, Portugal, China, Japan, etc. The school section will be one of the finest ever seen in the Territory. The various

OPIUM CURE IS WORSE THAN REAL THING

Breckons Makes A Discovery With Chemist

United States District Attorney Breckons and City and County Chemist Duncan discovered this morning that at least one supposed remedy for the opium habit contains enough morphine and opium to include it among the drugs prohibited by the United States authorities.

One of the Chinese confined in Oahu prison as a result of the numerous arrests undertaken against the opium ring appealed to Breckons for permission to smoke opium, declaring that he would surely die if the permission was not granted.

A relative then appeared on the scene with the "cure" and just for his own information Breckons turned it over to City Chemist Duncan for examination.

The result was that Breckons now has the cure on a shelf with numerous tins of opium and may take some action in connection with the stuff that is masquerading as a cure.
